

RICHARD HAGUE & PAULETTA HANSEL:

Old Buddies, New Books

Saturday, October 7
2-4 pm

(Readings at 2:20 & 3:20)

Arnold's Bar and Grill,
210 East Eighth Street,
Cincinnati

Join award-winning author and Thomas More College Writer in Residence RICHARD HAGUE and Cincinnati Poet Laureate PAULETTA HANSEL in celebrating the publication of their newest books, each drawing from their shared experiences of growing up Appalachian. Hague and Hansel have been friends and literary colleagues from their early days “growing wiser by the pint” at Arnold’s. What better place to launch their latest publications.

RICHARD HAGUE’s Studied Days: Poems Early and Late In Appalachia is a truly masterful collection you do not want to miss. –Marc Harshman, West Virginia Poet Laureate

Palindrome, PAULETTA HANSEL’s sixth collection, is brave and brilliant. This is a hard-won, heart-won book. –George Ella Lyon, Many-Storied House, Kentucky Poet Laureate, 2015-2016

Studied Days: Poems Early and Late in Appalachia and Palindrome
are published by Dos Madres Press with support from the Ohio Arts Council.
