In April 2018 the 41st Appalachian Studies Association welcomed over 1,000 scholars, activists, and performers to Cincinnati for a remarkable conference entitled Re-stitching the Seams: Appalachia Beyond its Borders. Building on this collaboration and growing awareness of Appalachian migration, this event proudly reunites three outstanding women—Cincinnati's original Poet Laureate Pauletta Hansel; writer and musician Sherry Cook Stanforth; and award-winning storyteller Omope Carter Daboiku—for a unique evening of storytelling, poetry, and reflections on place and home.

Sponsored by Miami University Appalachian Studies;
Department of Languages, Literature, and Writing;
Miami Regionals Office of Diversity and Multicultural Services
